

Amy Fletcher is an Associate Professor of Political Science and Public Policy at The University of Canterbury in Christchurch, New Zealand. An American citizen, she relocated to New Zealand in 1999, where she teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in science, technology and environmental politics. She recently published Mendel's Ark: Biotechnology and the Future of Extinction (Springer, 2014) and is a member of the Bring Back the Moa Advisory Board (<http://bringbackmoa.org/>), advising on ethical and policy issues related to de-extinction and this iconic Kiwi species.